

NEWS ABOUT CORN IN COFFEE COUNTY

Corn is our biggest crop in Coffee County. It grows on more acres than any other crop. We make corn a big source of cash in this county because so much land grows it. Farmers who make big corn yields can have corn to sell or they can feed it to some form of live stock and sell the livestock for cash. We are conducting three kinds of demonstrations about corn growing in Coffee County this year.

The first one is our "Special High-Fertilization, Thick-Spacing Demonstration." This takes only one acre of land unless you want to use more. The main thing in this demonstration is to use 600 pounds of fertilizer under the corn and side dress with 400 pounds of nitrate of soda or other good sources of nitrogen. Plant a good hybrid or open-pollinated corn and space thick. Spacing varies some according to the kind of hybrid.

The second big feature is our "100-Bushel Per Acre Club." All you have to do to join this club is to make 100 bushels per acre, on one or more acres, measure your yield and send the facts to the county agent's office. Members of this club will be given a membership certificate by the Extension Service.

The third feature is our "Whole-Farm Corn Demonstrations." This simply means a farmer putting his whole corn crop into the demonstration to see how high a yield he can average on his entire crop. Again it will not be necessary to weigh the crop. We furnish a simple method whereby you can get your average yield.

We are very anxious to have several hundred farmers in this demonstration. We hope that with all of these demonstrations we can have one, or more, farmers in them in every neighborhood in the county.

Let us have your name right away if you will cooperate on one or more of these demonstrations. We will send you complete instructions.

Corn meal, one of Coffee County's most popular foods, is going to be made more nourishing.

County Agent, J. R. Speed and Home Agent Mamie Mathews announced this week that corn millers all over the county will be told how they can add vitamins and minerals to corn meal produced at their mills. The agents said that the new method will make corn bread a real health food. The corn can be added by a simple attachment on the mill which feeds in an emulsion of vitamins and minerals as the corn meal is milled.

A program aimed at getting all corn meal produced in Alabama enriched with these vitamins and minerals has been launched by the Extension Service and the Experiment Station at Auburn.

"Numerous studies have indicated that 40 to 50 per cent of the people in the United States habitually eat diets that do not contain enough vitamins and minerals," says W. D. Salmon, of the Experiment Station. "One reason is the large amount of sugar, bread, and starchy foods eaten because such foods furnish the most energy for the body."

Least money. "Wheat naturally contains considerable amounts of vitamins, but most of these are removed in the milling process. Corn is naturally low in vitamins, particularly in the pellagra-preventing vitamin, called niacin."

"One of the simplest ways to improve the diets of the entire population is to enrich bread, flour, corn meal, and grits with vitamins and minerals. This is required by law in Alabama for white bread, white flour, and for degerminated corn meal and grits. But whole corn meal is almost as deficient in the pellagra-preventing vitamin as degerminated whole corn meal in the past has not been practical because the cost of the equipment was too high for the small mills. A simple inexpensive feeder has now been invented which makes enrichment a thoroughly practical procedure for the small mills throughout the State."

"There is urgent need for enriching all the corn meal consumed in this State. If this were done, pellagra would be eliminated completely, and many people who do not have outright pellagra but who feel run-down and weak from lack of proper diet, would enjoy improved health."

"The corn millers of Alabama can make a very important contribution to the health of their customers by enriching all the corn meal they produce," Salmon concludes.

Cover a worn-out wash cloth with some gay print material and stitch across it on the sewing machine several times. This makes an attractive post-holder.

One house and the lot or parcel of land on which the same is situated, described as follows: Beginning at a point on the West line of NE¼ of SE¼ of Section 25, Township 6, Range 20, 145 yards South of the NW corner of said forty, and running thence South along the West line of said forty, 105 yards; thence East parallel with the South line of said forty 350 yards, more or less, to the West margin of the Plant Mill public road; thence North 105 yards; thence East parallel to the North line of said forty 350 yards, more or less, to the point of beginning. The said parcel being a strip of land 105 yards wide in NE¼ of SE¼ of Section 25, Township 6, Range 20, and continuing with that same width through that part of NE¼ of SE¼ of Section 25, Township 6, Range 20, lying West of the Plant Mill road, containing 7 acres, more or less, in Coffee County, Alabama.

And said Elba Exchange Bank the mortgagee, has elected to foreclose the entire indebtedness immediately due and payable, as provided for in said mortgage, and on account of the default aforesaid, and has advised

Presidential Timber

Everybody seems to have his own idea these days about what it will take to clean up about the biggest mess the world has ever been in. Secretary Marshall figures that wrapping up 16 billion good ole American dollars to pay off lots of Europeans not to become communists will do the trick. Truman seems to think that passing a law requiring black and white equality in the south will help a lot. Gov. Wright, of Mississippi, figures the democratic party is headed in the wrong direction and now is the time for all good southerners to jump off. Governor Big Jim thinks the solution to the whole set-up is to elect him president and let him keep all the money in the U. S. and leave racial and poll tax questions up to each state.

The idea of Big Jim being president has brought forth a series of laughs and cat-calls from his opposition but they are no louder than when he was running for governor. We agree that Gov. Folsom is not exactly trained for the biggest job in the world, but he couldn't do any worse than have some of his predecessors.

President Truman, we think, stands a good chance of being elected. Why any white man would cast a vote in his direction doesn't come within our realm of understanding, but according to the papers and George Gallup, there are just lots of people who will. "We figure, however, that Folsom would be lots better for us people who live in the United States. Two of the most controversial issues today are the Marshall plan and the Civil Rights program. On these issues we believe Folsom is leading the field."

Gov. Folsom has been very outspoken against sending 16 billion dollars to Europe. With that we certainly agree. If food was as scarce as we were once told it was, all the people over there would have starved to death by now. We don't mind helping Europe to extent of sending tractors, plows and seed, but we figure they ought to work their own gardens, and they can raise a crop quicker than we could raise one and ship it to them. We believe the U. S. could give necessary items to Europe and have enough change out of 16 billion to pave the road from here to Kinston with gold brick.

As for civil rights, Gov. Folsom is a Southerner, and an Elbian. We doubt if he wants to abolish racial segregation any more than the rest of us Elbians.

And when it comes to laughing at Folsom's chances at being elected, he was laughed at before. He made the people in Alabama believe in him and vote for him. What can work in Alabama can work in the U. S. A. People are people regardless of what state their mail goes to and they generally respond alike to the same treatment. Gov. Folsom is a showman and he has a great personality. Is there any two features that can garner more votes than these?

There are still many who look down this noses at such practices as lying on sidewalks, etc., but if Gov. Folsom can reduce taxes and inject a little horse-sense into national and international politics he can rope off a section of the white horse steps and take sun baths as far as we are concerned.

Gov. Folsom is a long way from achieving the presidential nomination. Since the Civil War only one man, Woodrow Wilson, has made the grade. Without more tact and diplomacy than he has shown up to now he stands little chance to get in the running. But with the democratic party floundering around as it is most anything can happen.

Stumped

The new $2.00 price has brought on no real complaints from subscribers yet, but we have received a bit of good natured heckling. In several cases where subscribers mentioned the increased price we pointed out that eight pages for two dollars was actually a reduction from four pages at a buck-fifty. Our prospective renewal, however, came back with, "Yeah, but four pages of the Clipper is about all we can stand anyway!" We're still trying to think up an answer for that one.

Alabama Prisons

This week we received a copy of prison director Frank Boswell's recommendations to the governor. Director Boswell dwelt largely on the point of segregation, pointing out that the Alabama prison system is manufacturing criminals every day. Boswell recommends the removal of all inmates who have passed the stage of rehabilitation, including homosexual cases, mental inmates and habitual drug addicts, to a separate prison where they will not influence the other inmates.

Director Boswell's report is very frank and open. It is a plain statement that the system in its present condition is a failure. Venereal diseases are at an all-time high in the history of the department and more narcotics are being used than ever before. Many teen-age boys are serving time as repeaters; some having as high as 10 convictions before reaching 20 years of age.

This report should open the eyes of many Alabamians. It is the duty of the criminal to put time in our prisons for crimes they have committed. It is the duty of the state to see that his years of confinement can be used to his advantage, that he can work and learn, and return to society a normal, healthy person.

No Extra Charge

When we increased the price of the Clipper the first of the month we didn't raise the price to out-of-county subscribers. Local subscribers are of more value to the paper and its advertisers, but we can't see to fit to charge a premium price to Elba girls who saw fit to marry soldiers from other parts nor former Elbians who for business or personal reasons have found it expedient to reside elsewhere. If these people still think enough of Elba to want the home town paper it's a pleasure to send it to them—at no extra cost.

Basketball Perfection

We went down to Kinston Monday night hoping to see Elba upset the favored Kinston quintet. Instead, we saw Elba thoroughly trounced by a very good ball team in general and one superb basketball player in particular. "Red" Free was so good Monday night it was a pleasure to watch him even though it was the home team. We understand this year is Red's last in high school competition. With his ability, however, he should be able to pick any team he desires and play as long as he wants.

Wanted — Wheel Chair

This week's classified ad column carries the ad of an Elba woman who wants to buy a wheel chair. The chair is to be used by a 14-year-old boy who has never been able to walk at all. The family is hardly financially able to afford the price of a new chair, but can pay a fair price for a used one. If you know of such a chair please bring the attention of the owner to this ad.

Printing, like farming, or running a store is a certain method of getting wealthy. If a distant relative starts you out with a nice capital, and you have the ability to hold on to it, work, scrimp and plan hard, you may some day be able to borrow or sell enough stock to join the "Millionaire Club". If your friends or relatives won't help you, and selling stock or borrowing won't work, it's just too bad. That may mean that you can join our happy and numerous ordinary American citizens who are contented to live and let live, to work and plan to keep the home fires burning, to help someone fortunate, to scatter some good cheer—to make this world a better place to live in.

HOOKWORM SERIOUS IN COFFEE COUNTY

By DR. GARLAND WEIDNER, Health Officer of Coffee County

Hookworm disease symptoms were described as early as 1648, three hundred years ago, yet there are probably as many or more people with hookworms in Coffee County today as at any time in the past.

In order to fight hookworm successfully we need to understand more about this enemy. If we are to conquer this disease, we need to know more about it, how the worm lives, gets from one person to another, how much trouble they cause in disease, in loss of ambition and ability to make a living and how much public information, cooperation and possibly law enforcement may be needed to make a successful fight against them.

The worms themselves were first discovered in 1838 and named (bentmouth) worms, but it was not until 1902 that the widespread infection through the southern United States was recognized. The disease has caused poverty and death in all parts of the world where a warm climate, water and a sandy soil allow the worms to live.

In the United States early reports in 1908 describing negro slaves and poor whites in the South, reported dirt eating and dirt drinking, but no one knew the cause until 1902, almost 100 years later. In 1849 a good diet of meat, vegetables and greens was reported to reduce the severity of the symptoms.

This is true today. With better diets our people are feeding themselves and the hookworm also, and do not look to be so sick. In such cases, however, the hookworms live, lay their eggs and may cause serious trouble if the person becomes sick with some other disease. In 1852, it was reported that many negroes did not suffer severe effects even though they were infected and able to cause the disease in others. It was reported that "one dirt eater" on a plantation could infect the whole. This is true today. Every unclean case, even if mild, is a danger to everyone around them!

It was not until 1902, that Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles proved that hookworm disease was widespread throughout the south.

He and other workers proved, "That the greater number of cases of anemia in certain southern states were due, not to malaria, as universally believed, but to hookworm (uncinariases) and that it was the most common of all the most serious diseases of the entire South. In no other disease does the victim suffer so long, in no other condition is he for such a period a menace to those about him, and in no other malady of such gravity is treatment so rapidly and surely successful." The above is quoted from "Hookworm Disease" C. V. Mosby Co., 1910, written by Doctors George Dock and Charles Bass of the Tulane Medical Department.

In Alabama, Bondurant of Mobile, first called attention to the extent of hookworm disease in 1903. About this time, 45 years ago, Winthrop and Cole examined 66 Alabama medical students and found 31, or one-half of them infected. We know that about one-half of our people are still infected today. The disease is still widespread among young and old, city and country people and is frequently unrecognized and the cause of long lasting trouble.

Improved gardens, canning and eating habits and some treatment have helped reduce the damage and keep down bad symptoms, but hookworm infection is still the greatest needless cause of poverty in the south. Many children and adults have suffered peculiar symptoms over a period of time. Hookworm disease in expectant mothers has injured them and their unborn children. Infants under one year of age have been infected. Some have even been operated upon when their trouble was caused by hookworm disease. What they really needed was treatment for hookworm and then protection against further infection.

The anemia, weakness, failure of good growth and development of children and the anemia and tired feeling of adults is a curse of long standing that should no longer be allowed to weaken our people and decrease the living standards of all classes.

Mathis' Garage Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire which broke out about eight o'clock Monday night destroyed a garage and smokehouse at the home of P. G. Mathis on West Rushing street. Mr. Mathis was smoking meat and it was supposed the fire caught from that source. Mrs. Mathis had taken the family car to attend a meeting of the Business Women's Circle of the Baptist church, which probably saved it from being burned. A phone call informed her that the fire was at her home.

Absence of wind and the wet condition of near by houses prevented them from being damaged. The fire department, after its arrival on the scene, quickly extinguished the flames.

Medical Society Calls For Aid In Hookworm Control

The Coffee County Medical Society in its regular meeting of February 3, 1948, adopted the following resolutions:

1. Because of the widespread malnutrition and failure of proper growth and development among the people of Coffee County and hookworm infection is one of the great causes of anemia from which our people suffer, and because this reduces the ability of our children to grow well and learn well and our adults to work well; therefore, be it resolved to request the County Commissioners of Coffee County to make the appropriation of $2300.00 to the Health Department necessary to take advantage of the offer of the U. S. Health Department to furnish laboratory services for the testing of all of the school children of Coffee County for hookworm and all of the people of all ages in the area which provides the best methods of sanitation in the homes.
2. Because the widespread hookworm infection among the children and adults of Coffee County can best be combated by a thorough educational program to bring about better sanitation at the homes of our people; therefore, be it resolved to request the County Commissioners of Coffee County to make the appropriation of $2300.00 to the Health Department necessary to take advantage of the offer of the U. S. Health Department to furnish laboratory services for the testing of all of the school children of Coffee County for hookworm and all of the people of all ages in the area which provides the best methods of sanitation in the homes.

Cities Are Vulnerable To Attack By A-Bomb

40 Per Cent of the Population Lives in Danger Zone.

WASHINGTON. — More than 40 per cent of the population — 40 per cent of the population — live in metropolitan areas so vulnerable to atomic attack that any one of the areas could be largely destroyed by a single A-bomb, Dr. Warren S. Thompson, population expert, reports.

In a report prepared for the census bureau on the growth of metropolitan districts between 1900 and 1940, he said the physical structure of American cities, with few exceptions, "ideal for destruction by A-bombs."

He did not say which cities were "exceptions."

Thompson, director of Scripps Foundation for Population Research at Miami (Ohio) university, said there were 140 metropolitan districts with 100,000 or more inhabitants in 1940, contrasted with only 44 in 1910.

"Any one of these could be largely destroyed by a single A-bomb, as we now know," he said. "And probably not more than half a dozen would be able to function at all after six or eight such bombs as that dropped at Hiroshima had fallen on them."

He added that there had been no evidence of any major trend toward decentralization or dispersal of American urban populations. In fact, he said, all indications are that the big cities and their suburbs will continue to grow rapidly at least through the rest of the 1940-50 decade.

Thompson attributed the continuing expansion to the heavy influx of workers from rural areas, rather than to any increase in the birth rate among city dwellers.

Judge Cites Roman Law; Ring Must Be Returned
LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Superior Judge Leo Freund ruled that a diamond ring found in a holding that an engagement ring is not the woman's property until marriage.

He ruled that Miss Betty Sinclair, 40, of North Hollywood, must return a diamond ring to her former fiancé, Russell O. Pribe, 46, real estate man, unless she chooses to pay him $2,500 instead. The judge said Roman law held that an engagement ring was merely a symbol of truth; if the truth was broken, the ring went back to the donor.

Pribe sued to recover the ring and a $400 gold brooch and $2,800 cash. Judge Freund ruled that Miss Sinclair may keep the cash and brooch.

Physicians Study Medical Problems of Atomic Age
CHICAGO. — Physicians representing the army, navy, air forces and United States public health service began receiving instructions in the first course in history dealing with medical problems of the atomic age.

Nineteen physicians have enrolled in the six month course at University of Chicago designed to teach them how to protect civilians and military personnel against radiation injury.

Dr. Raymond E. Zirkle, director of the institute of radiology and physics at the university, organized the course at the request of representatives of the armed forces special weapons project.

The first half of the course will deal with atomic nucleus, properties and measurements of radiation and general radiobiology. The second half will be devoted to prevention and treatment of radiation on man and animals.

Army Gets 'Mechanical Cow,' Makes Better Milk Substitute
WASHINGTON. — The army came up with a mechanical cow to make a better substitute for fresh milk for overseas troops.

The army said it had found a method mechanically to recombine powdered milk with butter, oil and water.

The advantages, the army said, are that the dry ingredients may be shipped to such places as Guam, Okinawa and Korea, where fresh milk is hard to get, and may be stored there for long periods until mixed.

The new milk beverage is "highly acceptable," the army said, and resembles fresh milk more than any previous concoction. Lack of fresh milk is one of the biggest gripes of soldiers stationed in the Pacific.

Tourist Increase in Sweden Passes All Former Records
STOCKHOLM. — Never before has Sweden received as many foreign tourists as during the season just past, according to Dr. Gustaf Munthe, head of the Swedish Tourist Traffic association.

Compared with 1938, the last summer of peace, the number of Americans was three times as great, or in all some 40,000. There were 10 times as many from Norway, British tourists numbered between 30,000 and 35,000, which is some 10,000 to 15,000 more than before the war.

Want To Go To Europe? Re-enlist In Regular Army

In response to a number of inquiries that have been received from veterans in the Elba area, Sgt. Taylor, of the local enlistment office, three, four or five years."

Any veteran, who may be interested in these assignments, may obtain full information by contacting the local Army and Air Force recruiting station in the Armed Forces whose MOS qualifies them for duties in the Regular Army man qualify for European assignments," Sgt. Taylor pointed out, "and men honorably discharged since May 12, 1945, may also qualify to enter in grades as high as grade three—Staff Sgt.—provided they have been in the service for three, four or five years."

Do not leave frozen meat (especially pork) in storage over six months if possible, for the salt may make the meat become rancid.

My good friend, Gene Grimes, of the Basin community, authority on winter cover crops as well as other things connected with agriculture, stated last Friday that he had examined his lupine field quite carefully and found that some of the crop had been damaged considerably by the cold weather in January. He said, however, that the cold had been beneficial in some ways, especially in killing insects and holding sap back.

When Horace King, part Negro and part Catawba Indian, was brought as a slave to Columbus, Ga., by John Godwin, a contractor, he was trained by his owner along construction lines. Finally, he became labor foreman of Godwin's work crew, and it was King who supervised the building of the first houses in Columbus and Otrid. He also supervised the building of the two bridges that spanned the river between the two towns prior to the Civil War. When Godwin died, King his former slave, provided for the contractor's widow until her death.

During reconstruction days, he served in the state legislature as a representative from Russell County.

Two years after the French, under Itherville, planted Fort Louis de la Mobile, at 27-Mile Bluff on the Mobile River, two dozen orphaned French girls, known as the "Cassette Girls" (so called because the government provided each of them with a small trunk or cassette and an outfit) came to the colony to begin new lives as wives of the settlers. The story goes that all of the "Cassette Girls" were married and settled down in the New World with their new husbands within a month after their arrival. That is, all but one settled down, and she was listed in the annals of the colony as "coy and hard to please."

The GM&O railroad was chartered February 3, 1948 as the M&O and was one of the first and-grant railroads in the nation. In 1850, the road was dedicated 419,328 acres of public lands in Alabama and Mississippi. These lands were sold to raise funds for construction and rolling stock.

Over his former owner's grave in Godwin cemetery, Phenix City, King erected a monument which stated that the marker was placed there "by Horace King in lasting remembrance of the love and gratitude he felt for his lost friend and former master."

Just prior to the Civil War, bitter differences arose in the Episcopal Church. Congregations and church leaders were split on the secession question. Bishop Nicholas Hammer Cobbs, of Alabama, voiced the wish that he might die before this split left the Union. His wish was fulfilled on January 11, 1861, the day the Secession Convention passed the ordinance of withdrawal and war with the United States and joined the Confederacy.

When the Louisiana Purchase was negotiated with Napoleon in 1803, the United States claimed that Mobile was included in the transaction, but Spain, who had come into possession of the port as a result of the treaty that ended the Revolutionary War, protested that the city still remained a part of West Florida. "Temporarily, the Americans allowed opportunity to bring the port under its domain. Hostilities had hardly begun between this nation and the British when U. S. General James Wilkinson moved in and took over the city "without the effusion of a drop of blood."

In Ephesians 4:4-6, we read these words: "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all."

ALL ONE IN CHRIST
THE above passage from Ephesians teaches clearly that there is a brotherhood of man, real and abiding, when we accept the Fatherhood of God, through Jesus Christ. This is the meaning of the church. No amount of man-made creeds can save us. No amount of ritual and ceremony can save us. We are saved by grace through faith, and that is the gift of God. When we accept of our sins and believe on our Lord and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all.

The one adequate solvent for the crying needs of this frightened world is the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Just as thousands were saved on Pentecost and again on the Lord's Day when Peter preached in Solomon's porch, so today many may be saved where the Gospel is proclaimed in its simplicity and power.

We are one in Christ, of every race and every tongue. The fellowship of Christian faith transcends every barrier — racial, economic, geographic, political, religious. We are one to proclaim the universality of this good news—proclaim it in our words and proclaim it in our daily lives.

Christian Fellowship
Lesson for February 22, 1948

GEORGE WASHINGTON was a splendid example of Christian fellowship. If you will travel through the older portion of the United States, particularly in Virginia, you will come upon numerous instances of church pews marked as follows: "George Washington worshipped in this pew on blank date." Evidently, it was a custom to attend public worship in whatever community he spent the Lord's day. Thus he entered into Christian fellowship, gaining a blessing and rendering a blessing.

The lesson passage for Sunday is found in Acts 2:42-47 and Ephesians 4:1-6, with several other passages which will be quoted before we begin the lesson. The lesson is a happy time in church and a picture of a group of very happy people. Think of it, three thousand people professing faith in Jesus and receiving baptism in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit! But read on—they were not only happy at church, but they were happy because they were in the church. They continued steadfastly in the apostles' teachings and fellowship and breaking of bread and prayer.

They praised God and had favor with all the people. By their daily living they were convincing the world that fellowship in Christ is not only a happy thing, but it is a blessing to the world, and that it is equally true in every area of life.

AT CHURCH WITH FRIENDS
"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord," Psalm 122:1.

That is poetry, you will agree, but it is actual testimony. Not only of the Psalmist, but of countless junior boys and girls throughout the world who eagerly await the sound of the church bells. Boys and girls delight to go to Sunday school and worship when the life of the church is permeated with Christian fellowship. There they meet the finest boys and girls in the community.

Tigers Slide To Defeat In Dothan

Over at Dothan last Friday night the Elba Tigers slipped and slid to a double defeat, both the varsity and "B" teams losing by being unable to keep their feet on the highly waxed and polished floor. Too late, the Elba Tigers applied rosin to their soles, and from that point on they were rapidly overhauled when the game ended. But the slick floor had done its work. Final score, Dothan 41, Elba, 31.

Elba's "B" team slipped and slid when they were not prone on the floor, lost 39-26.

Correction — In publishing the account of the death of little Rose Ann McCullough, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Babe McCullough, the Elba Clipper erred in giving her age as six weeks, which she has been six months. Her surviving sister is Carolyn, now Caroline, as stated in the death notice. 19Feb23p

FFA Quartett Sings Way To Victory — The Elba FFA quartette went to Enterprise Monday night, February 9, to compete in singing against the high schools of Coffee County and were declared the winning four. The boys composing the Elba quartette are: Harold Wise, Ralph Johnson, Densby Lowery and Jack Lowery. They are to be congratulated for their success and are looking forward to going to the State FFA convention in Birmingham sometime in June. 19Feb23p

4th Sacred Movie — The third episode of the "Life of St. Paul" was shown at Elba Methodist Church Sunday night. The fourth episode, "Grace of Forgiveness," will be shown Sunday night, beginning at 7:00 o'clock. These movies are well worth seeing. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited. 19Feb23p

Kinston Cagers Lose To Lanier — Kinston's fast-stopping quintet lost a 27-25 nip-and-tuck tussle to Sidney Lanier at Montgomery Friday night, a game in which Kinston played its best. Kinston's all-star James "Red" Free was held to 9 points, but he sparked his team throughout the game. Kinston was scored over 400 points this season. 19Feb23p

Kinston has lost only two games of 25 starts this season. The first was to Enterprise and to Sidney Lanier. Earlier in the season, December 13 at Kinston, the Kinston quintet, coached by Bryant Stiles, defeated Montgomery by a score of 30-21. Kinston basketball team has been famous for many years and always have been reckoned with when figuring on district and state championships. 19Feb23p

Apartment Houses

Elba will soon have two new apartment houses which will help relieve the housing shortage. Maxwell Wallace is building a duplex apartment next to his home on North Carolina Ave. in West Elba. It will have two three-room apartments with separate bathrooms.

Mrs. Daisy Windham is erecting a two-story-three-room apartment building between the Arthur Boutwell and the P. J. Ham homes. Each apartment will have four rooms and bath. This will be the largest apartment house in Elba.

BUILDING PROGRAM — (Continued from page one) week and to have from three to four thousand dollars raised by next Sunday.

Rev. Spinoles said he hoped to have a plan-showing next Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Last Sunday afternoon, he put up a showing of the plan, but that was the type building he prefers, and has invited others to do likewise. A number of persons have told him what they wanted, but he prefers that they put it in diagram form and that it be placed on the wall for all to study. He is further asking that each organization and each department of the Sunday school, church board, and missionary organizations, write what it feels are the needs of the community in order that it may put on a successful program. All these will be taken into consideration in the final plan.

Artist Smith Enters Race For Commissioner — Artist Smith Jack, Route 1, announces his candidacy for the office of Commissioner from the Northeast District. His announcement was received too late to be placed in the Elba Clipper's regular Political Announcements column, but appears elsewhere. Additional information will be published in next week's issue. 19Feb23p

New Businesses In Old Clipper Building — Messrs. Cleve, John W. and Mercer D. Rushing are remodeling the interior of the old Clipper office building and will open a shoe repair shop and electrical supply store as soon as stock and equipment can be installed. The large room is being partly a shoe repair shop and partly an electrical supply store. The shoe repair shop on the north side and John and Mercer will conduct the electrical shop in the south room. They expect to be ready to do a rushing business beginning about March 1.

Retail Grocers "On The Spot" — Elba retail grocers say they are "on the spot." They say there has been so much said in the papers and over the radio about reduced foodstuffs prices, housewives and men folks too are expecting to buy groceries much cheaper, but as a matter of fact, the merchants haven't been advised of any material drop in wholesale prices as yet, and the wholesale dealers say they haven't heard of any.

It puts retailers in a tough spot, but most of them are trying to clear up and the present jittery feeling will be short-lived. There is nothing more harmful to business than uncertainty. It is unfair to the local grocer to reduce his prices when he cannot buy goods any cheaper, and it is contrary to common sense.
